

MUNICIPAL BAND TO PLAY TONIGHT

Union Donates Services, After Preventing Military Band From Playing.

Following a refusal of the musicians' union to give the necessary permission for an army band to play for the San Francisco street illumination celebration this evening, the Municipal band, composed of members of the musicians' union, offered its services for the celebration, which were accepted by President E. B. Ordorff.

The Municipal band will give a concert in Pioneer plaza shortly before eight o'clock and this will open the celebration. The band will also lead the parade down San Francisco street to the union station after the lights are turned on and will play at the union station.

Because of a federal law, it is necessary for the local musicians' union to give its permission before a commander can permit his band to play in the city. When this permission was requested from the local officials of the union, it was refused and the band concert called off.

Celebration at Eight.
The celebration will start promptly at eight o'clock when the lights will be turned on by Mayor Tom Lea, who will be present with his command. The lights will be connected to one switch and when the mayor presses the button at the chamber of commerce the lights will burn all night for the first time. There will be the blowing of whistles over the city, including the big fire siren.

The lights have been arranged from Pioneer plaza to the union station on each side of the street and will make a path of light to the union station.

AUTOS WANTED FOR VISITORS

Many Machines Will Be Needed to Take Care of Distinguished Guests.

Many machines will be needed to accommodate the large party of visitors with the congressional party on June 3 and 4. Several different automobile trips are planned, in and around the city, in order that a few will not have to bear the whole burden, and to save expense, the committee requests that all who are willing to furnish automobiles for this purpose when called upon will notify the committee at once.

J. A. Smith and W. G. Roe have charge of this part of the arrangements. Mr. Smith is at 423 North Oregon, telephone 246, and Mr. Roe is at 216 South El Paso.

Following the ceremony of turning on the lights the Harvey house dinner given by manager George Manlin will be served to the directors of the chamber of commerce, the mayor and council and to Gen. J. J. Pershing and staff.

COURT DISMISSES NEBRASKA ALIEN INHERITANCE SUIT

Washington, D. C., June 1.—The supreme court today dismissed a suit attacking the constitutionality of the Nebraska statute prohibiting non-resident aliens from inheriting agricultural land. English heirs of John Toop attacked the disposition of his property, claiming their interest was guaranteed by treaty. The court found the treaty did not exist until after Toop died and therefore dismissed the suit.

The effect is to leave the constitutionality of the law undetermined.

FEAST FOR THE CONGRESSMEN

Roof Garden to Be Converted Into Mexican Village Thursday Night.

A Mexican village during fiesta time will be reproduced on the roof of the Paso del Norte Thursday night, when the dinner in honor of the congressional appropriation committee is given. Hundreds of miniature electric lights in colors will be strung over the roof garden of the hotel and the garden will be filled with palms, flags and flowers. The waitresses will be dressed in Mexican costume and a Mexican orchestra will play typical music during the dinner. The dinner will be served in the garden and a big searchlight, which will be borrowed from the Villa Garza in Juarez, will play over the city, the Mexican mountains and Juarez to allow the visitors to see the city and surrounding country at night.

All Lights Burning.
While the dinner is in progress all of the street lights, including the new San Francisco street illumination, will be left burning until midnight. All of the office buildings will be requested to turn on the lights in all of the windows Thursday evening and allow the illumination committee of the chamber of commerce to have the lights on this evening. The other members of the committee are H. S. Potter, E. C. Davis and Norman Walker.

Committee Meets.

A meeting of the illumination committee, of which H. S. Potter is chairman, was held in the general manager's office of the Electrical building Monday afternoon and plans for the illumination of the city were made. J. W. Pershing, superintendent of lighting for the electric railway company, has been added to the committee and will act as illumination engineer in planning the decorations for the roof garden and the city. Mr. Pritchett originated and carried out the San Francisco street lighting scheme which will be turned on this evening. The other members of the committee are H. S. Potter, E. C. Davis and Norman Walker.

Arrival at 6:50 p. m.

The congressional committee will arrive at the union station at 6:50 p. m. on Thursday evening. They will be accompanied from the train by the chamber of commerce, Elephant Butte and El Paso Water Users' associations' committees. At the station the delegation will be met by Gen. John J. Pershing, members of his staff, a military escort and band, mayor Tom Lea and the aid-de-camp.

With the band leading, the committee will be escorted to the Hotel Paso del Norte where, at 8 o'clock, they will be tendered the banquet on the roof garden by the chamber of commerce and the two water users' associations. Following the banquet a special street car will be waiting to take the visitors and the committee to Juarez, where the Villa authorities have arranged for a military escort.

Military Review.

The program for Friday calls for an auto trip to Fort Bliss at 9 in the morning. At the fort Gen. Pershing has arranged for a review of all of the troops. The visitors will then return to the city and will take a trip of inspection of the valley. Returning, they will stop off at the West Valeta Country club, where a big barbecue will be held. The committee will then return to the city and will leave Friday evening for the west.
